

NEW YEAR IN ZAGREB, CROATIA

These days, Christmas and New Year in Croatia is much like many other countries that celebrate this holiday – there's a multitude of decorations, fir trees aplenty, a slightly manic shopping period for gifts and (more or less) a good holiday spirit. New Year's Eve is very popular in Croatia and, once again, many towns and cities organize a special celebration for their main square or street. In the larger cities, this can often be quite an extravaganza with top singers (by Croatian standards, anyway) performing. As is the case with almost everywhere around the world, there's a countdown for midnight and a firework display. These events are free, so well worth joining and taking in the atmosphere and good vibes.
